Company

Established in 2002, Davis Computer Technologies started as a home-based businesses servicing local residential communities. Over the past 20 years, DCT has evolved into delivering cost effective systems installation and integration services to small / medium size businesses desiring to outsource these services to reputable licensed providers. We pride ourselves in being a “one-stop-shop” for all your IT needs.

Our core value is to provide customers with customized solutions and services that meet their independent needs. Our technicians have an array of skillsets, licenses and certifications. Through our many partners, we can service small, medium and large customers/contracts. We have a proven track record servicing the Washington DC (DMV) area.
